"It can do it by itself," Diamond said, and held out the fife away from his lips. His fingers. Quite early on, impatient with wooing her massive physical indifference, he had worked up a charm, a sorcerer's seduction-spell of which he was contemptuous even as he made it, though he knew it was effective. He cast it on her while she was, characteristically, mending a cow's halter. The result had not been the melting eagerness it had produced in girls he had used it on in Havnor and Thwil. Dragonfly had in the big earthquake, when Silence would have been seven or eight; the mother was a cook at a waterfront inn. At twelve the boy had got into some kind of trouble, probably messing about with magic, and his mother had managed to apprentice him to Elassen, a respectable sorcerer in Valmouth. There the boy had picked up his true name, and some skill in carpentry and farmwork, if not much else; and Elassen had had the generosity, after three years, to pay his passage to Roke. That was all Dulse knew about him..tempered, having learned the uselessness of impatience in the work that must be done. Sometimes.He walked down the straggling street of Purewells to Sans house, which was about midway, opposite."You're welcome," she said, and hoisted whatever it was into a massive pottery bowl, and wiped her there scarcely knew of him.
