The wizard Hemlock, who had known his great-uncle the Mage, came up from South Port to name him. And Hemlock was invited to his nameday party the year after, a big party, beer and food for all, and new clothes, a shirt or skirt or shift for every child, which was an old custom in the West of Havnor, and dancing on the village green in the warm autumn evening. Diamond had many friends, all the boys his age in town and all the girls too. The young people danced, and some of them had a bit too much beer, but nobody misbehaved very badly, and it was a merry and memorable night. "For us," said Ember. "For us who live, in hiding, neither killed nor killing. The dead are dead.."Ah," said Diamond, floored. The Summoner's art is perhaps the most arcane and dangerous of all.He was still shaken, appalled, by the ease with which Gelluk had forced him to say his name, which gave the wizard immediate and ultimate power over him. Now he had no hope of resisting Gelluk in any way. That night he had been in utter despair. But then Anieb had come into his mind: come of her own will, by her own means. He could not summon her, could not even think of her, and would not have dared to do so, since Gelluk knew his name. But she came, even when he was with the wizard, not in apparition but as a presence in his mind..Ilien was the first of his house to take the throne in Havnor. His granddaughter was Queen Heru; the summoner's art goes straight to that. It's a wonderful thing to summon up the semblance and spreading and wandering, making a marsh of it, a big, desolate, waterland with a far horizon, few craft. Medra had been the Master Finder, until he went to the Grove. A young woman now taught that.
